Continuation Sheet (PTO-303)

Continuation of 3. NOTE: the subject matter added to the specification relates to material that is still deemed new matter and adding such to the specification is also considered new matter, see the previous action for examiners reasoning for the new matter rejection.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: the arguments directed toward the art rejection are conclusionary and provide no further argument that wasn't covered by the previous office action's response to arguments, with respect to the new matter rejection, a seam is an interruption in the wall where the two edges are brought together forming the seam, such is an interruption and as per the previously provided definition found in the previous office action, continuous is defined as uninterrupted.
